

Abbra Complete – Telephone and Power Connections

Your Abbra Complete wireless security system comes preprogrammed for monitoring at the 24/7 NextAlarm central station, and has several sensors and accessories enrolled already. The basic kit you have just opened allows you to quickly install the system and secure your home, just by powering up the system and connecting a phone line or broadband adapter.

Using a Phillips head screwdriver, loosen (do not remove entirely) the two screws the bottom edge of the case. This will allow you to open the case.

Power Connection

Carefully lift the top of the enclosure from the bottom.

Route the power cable through the bottom of the case and plug into the power socket.

Telephone Connection

Your Abbra Complete incorporates a punch terminal telephone connection, rather than a modular jack as shown on page 6 of the installation manual. Please follow these instructions to connect the included phone cord. You will need a small screwdriver to complete the wiring.

Note that the phone cord has four colored wires on one end, and a regular phone plug on the other. Please see illustration below for connector location.

Using a small screwdriver, unscrew the two terminal screws on the LEFT terminal strip marked LINE.

Insert the RED wire under the screw terminal on the LEFT and the GREEN wire under the terminal on the RIGHT of the strip marked LINE. Screw the terminal screws back down, being careful not to over tighten them.

Close the Abbra case and retighten the bottom screws.
