OUR COVER

Bringing a breath of fresh summer air to our December cover is Lorraine Johns, here demonstrating one of the new fibreglass surfboards. Lorraine, who hails from a little further up our coast, makes it look like surfing could be very popular this summer.

BACK COVER: Making a national and even international name for itself are Wanganui's Boxing Day Cemetery Circuit motor-cycle races, which draw many thousands of spectators looking for excitement and thrills.

NEXT ISSUE: FEB. 9

Monkey Business

Ain't love cute? We snapped this picture at the A. and P. Show. That's Allan Horobin there (the one with the shirt on), kissing little Sweetie-pie the Chimpanzee. And the Chimp-can-see what's going on...she's one of those wide-eyed kissers, and the bloke on the right (No.3 in the Eternal Triangle) looks like he could get nasty any minute. Better open your eyes, Allan, before the trouble starts.

Judy Hughes...a lazy peon

Elizabeth Davidson the Islands representative

A word from the sponsor by Mary Harrison

Geisha who this is... Rae Cvitanovich of course.

Christmas Concert

The Gonville Plunket Mothers Club recently held their Christmas concert in the St. Peter's Church hall. One of the most amusing sketches was a skit on Selwyn Toogood's "Magic Carpet". Pictured here are some of the representatives of countries "visited". These people each gave an item traditional to the country to which they belonged.

A harem-scarem gal..... Val Allpress sheds the last of the veils.

Hey boy! That's Myrtle Smith!

Colleen Wynd and Gay Riley kick up in the French can-can

Marie Casey from Netherlands

Lyndsay Cavell added a drop of Scotch to the party.

Burgess and MacLean???...No, Margaret McDougall and Helen Laws.

CHRISTMAS PARADE

About 40 vehicles and floats took part in the Wanganui Jaycees' Christmas parade through the city recently. The weather was just right for the parade and thousands of kiddies and parents lined the route of the procession. Once again McCruers Ltd. took first prize in the retailers' float section with their spectacular "Sleeping Beauty" (pictured right). The floats were of a very good standard this year. Pipe and brass bands and teams of local marching girls interspersed the floats to add to the very colourful display. Right at the end of the parade came the grand old man of December, Santa Claus, complete with his bevy of fairies.

Kiddies swarm for sweets at the lolly scramble

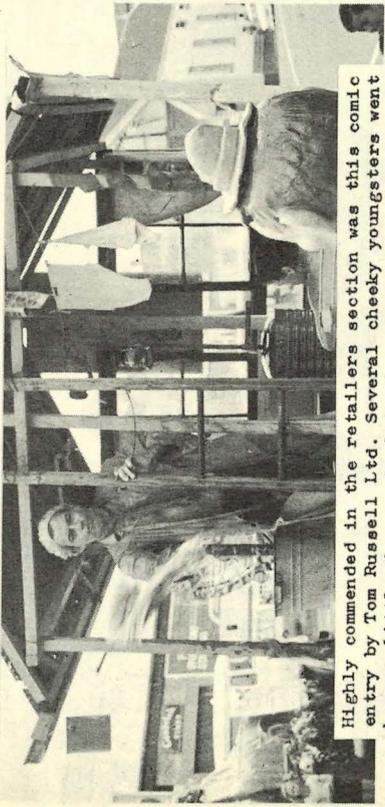

A wave for some of his thousands of young admirers from Santa

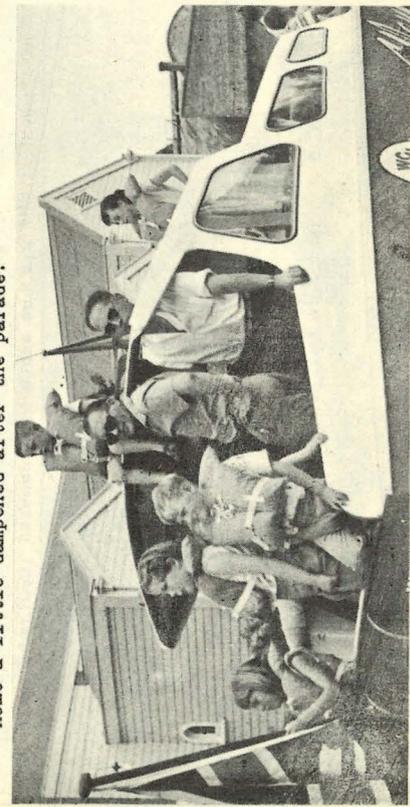

"Sleeping Beauty" slumbers on her prize-winning float

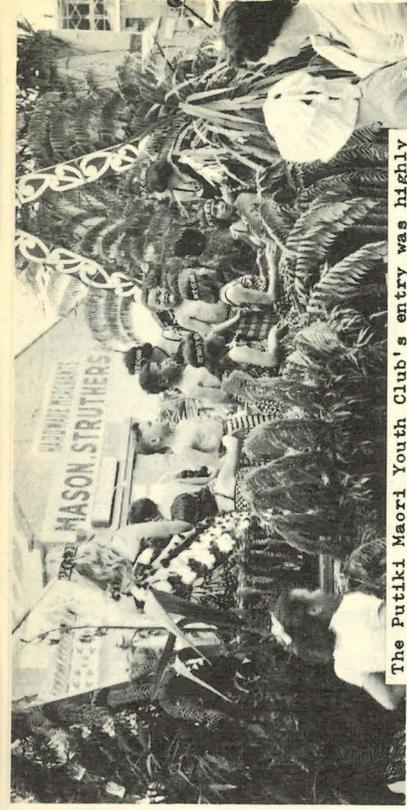

The Wanganui Underwater Club took first prize in the sports section of the parade. Whacko...where can a bloke join?

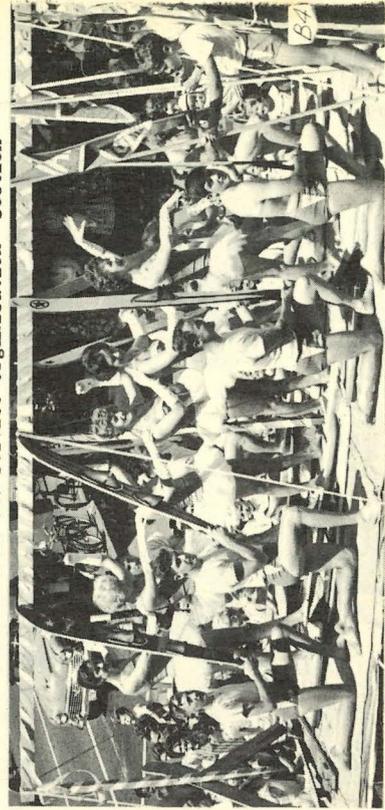

Highly commended in the retailers section was this comic entry by Tom Russell Ltd. Several cheeky youngsters went home a little dampened after the parade.

This is a fairdinkum float that wasn't afloat

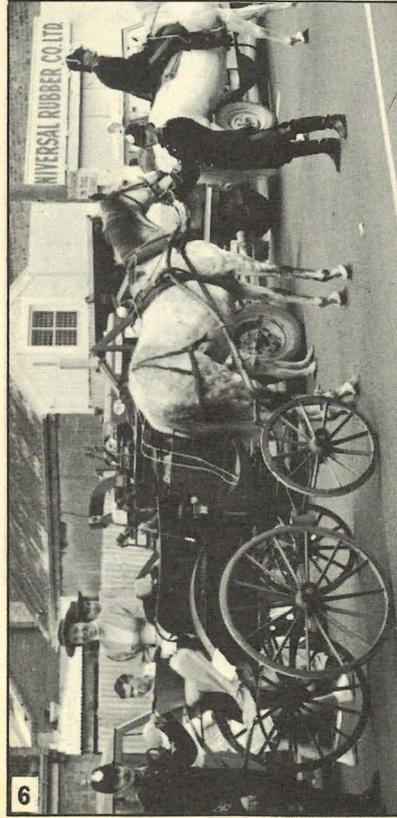

The Putiki Maori Youth Club's entry was highly commended in the service organisation section

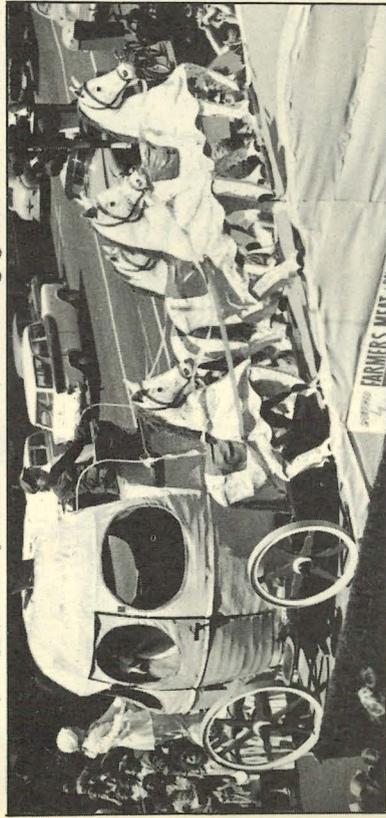

An attractive float was the Water Ski Club's effort

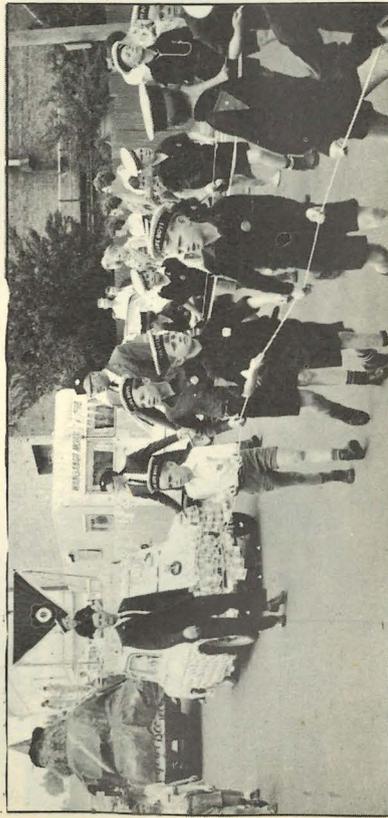

An entry of the Wanganui Motor Boat Club

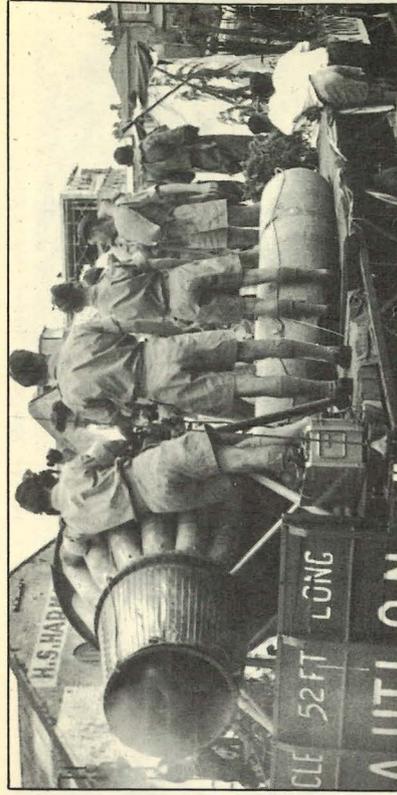

The Army department paraded with horse and gig and 1860 uniforms

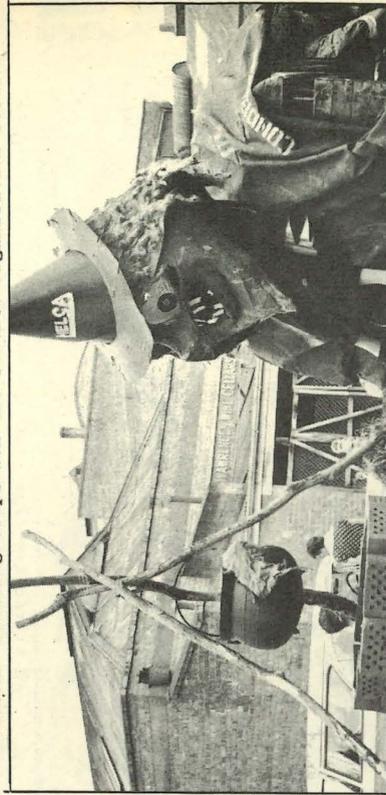

"Cinderella" was the theme of Farmers' Meat and Delicatessen

The Life Boys paraded too

The Air Training Corps won the service organisation section

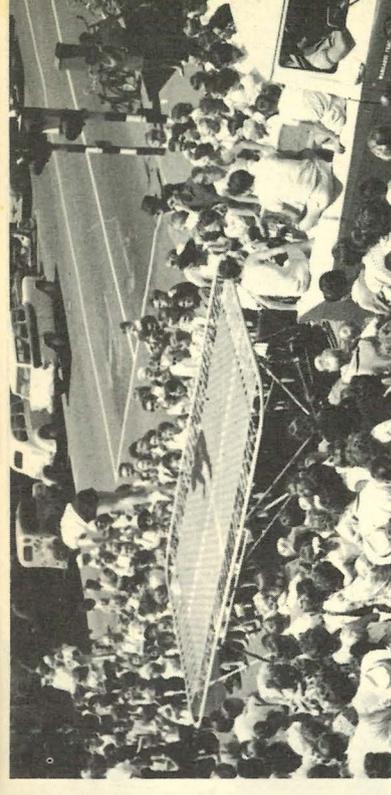

"Helga"....entered by the Wanganui Retail Bookellers' Assn.

A very good entry was D.I.C.'s "Hansel and Gretel"

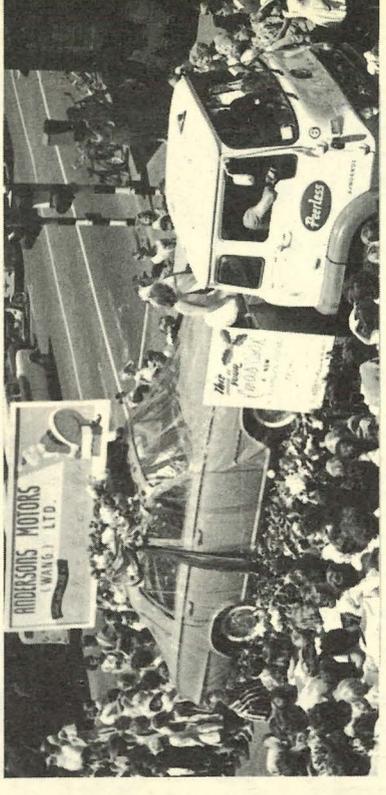

London town's float

Y.M.C.A. trampolinists were interesting

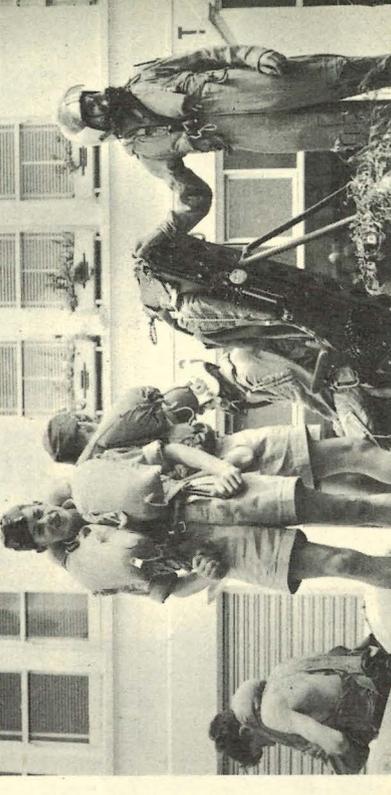

Red Cross parcels were remembered by the R.S.A.

Anderson Motors' entry in the retailers' section

Reliance had a fleet of vehicles in as their contribution

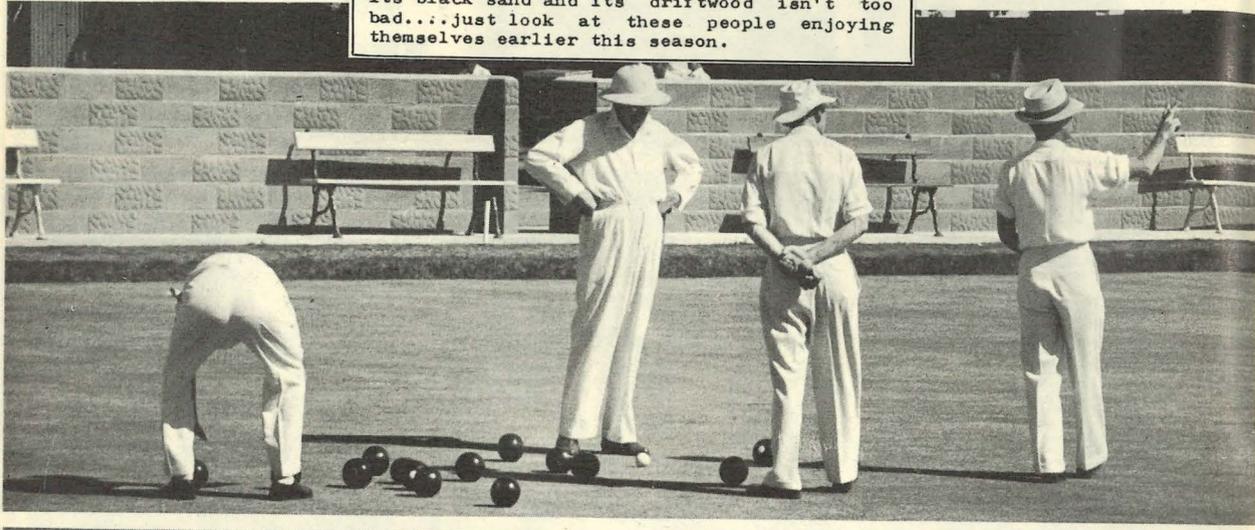

A.T.C. cadets had a very interesting float

The Summer Sport Scene

Well Old Sol has put away the woollens, the hockey sticks, and the football boots and replaced them with white legs, too-tight creams and (goody-goody) bikinis. Yep, all summer sportsmen and women are now enjoying their chosen activity....it may be one of those pictured on this page. However, whatever is your favourite summer sport....you are bound to be one who enjoys the activities pictured opposite just as much. Old Castlecliff with its black sand and its driftwood isn't too bad....just look at these people enjoying themselves earlier this season.

Aero Rally

The biggest assembly of light aircraft in years lined up at the Wanganui Airport recently when over 30 planes attended the Central Districts rally here. This event is one of the biggest of the year on the North Island aero clubs' calendars. Pilots competed for trophies in bombing, aerobatics and forced landings in dicey winds of up to 30 knots. About 80 competitors took part.

Hey...how did that big fellow get in there...Relax, N.A.C. use the airport too

Watching the aerobatics was a bit hard on the optics

Noel Faircloth takes time out from organising to get a few snaps of the activities.

....O.K. but watch where you're going

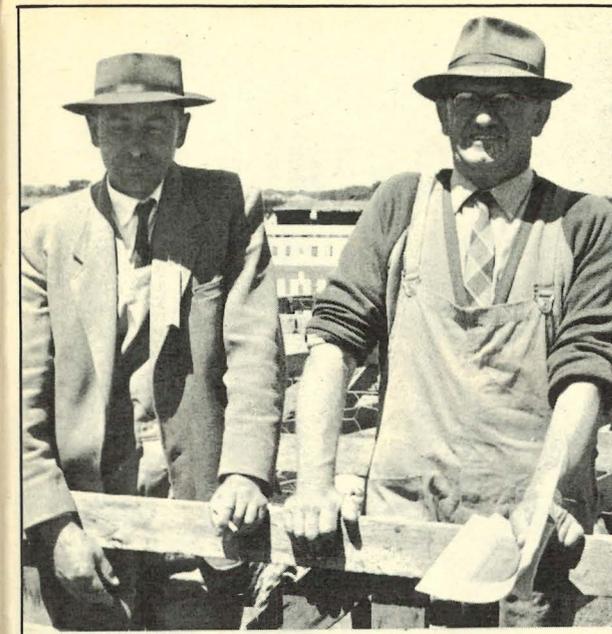

Time out for a rest

Record Gate At Show

Beautiful weather smiled on the Wanganui Agricultural and Pastoral Association's 1962 Show held at the racecourse recently. It was probably due to the faultless weather that the gate takings this year broke the nine-year-old record of £1,328. This year the takings totalled £1,552. There were the usual stock and trade exhibitions, all of a pretty high standard, but one could not help noticing the wealth of sideshow attractions that were of a better entertainment level than in previous years.

Casting expert eyes over the flock hoggets were judge, Mr J.Campion, Fordell, and steward Mr L.A.Mackintosh, Wanganui.

A lot of bull...in fact about a ton of it. The proud animal here is the champion Ayrshire, Kilcreggan Mahmoud, being held by his breeder, Colin Caseley, and his father.

Judging taking place in the pig section. This monster Tamworth boar was awarded reserve champion

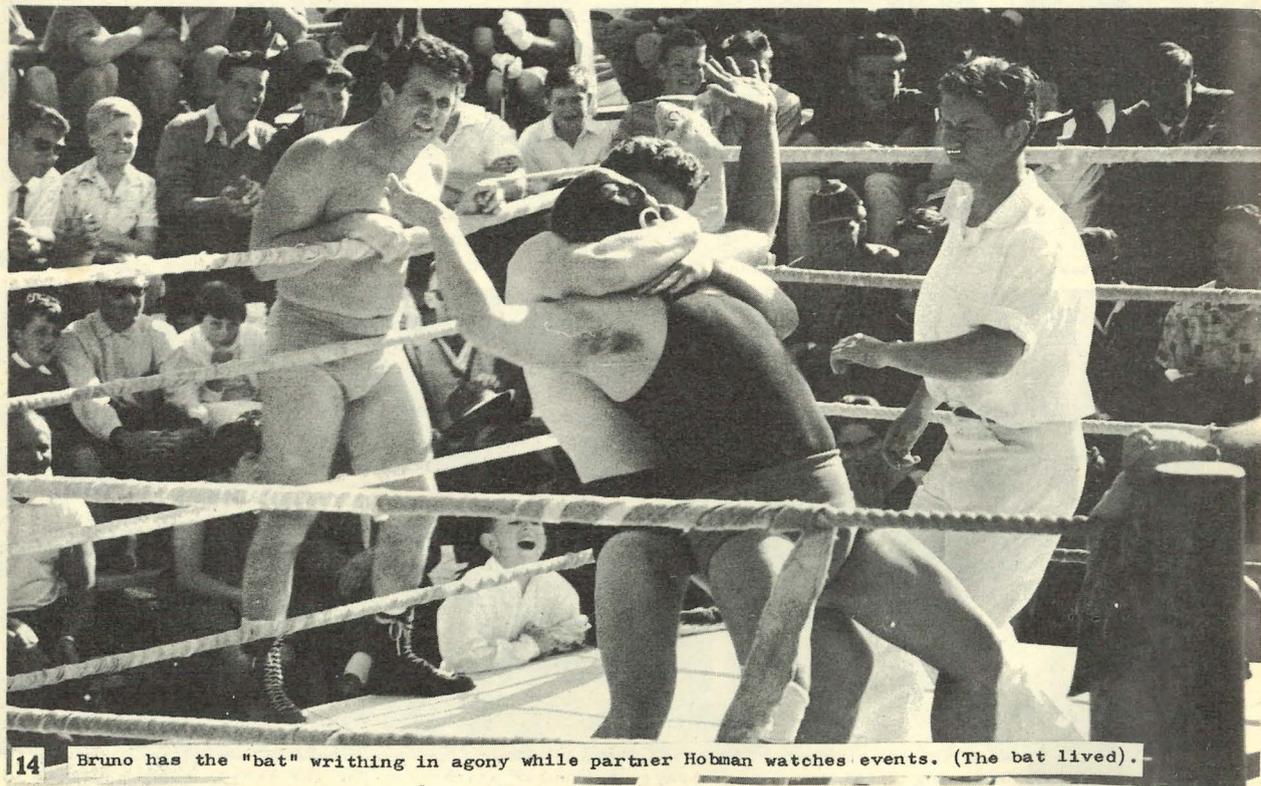

Sheep dog trials were, as always, a popular attraction for the crowds

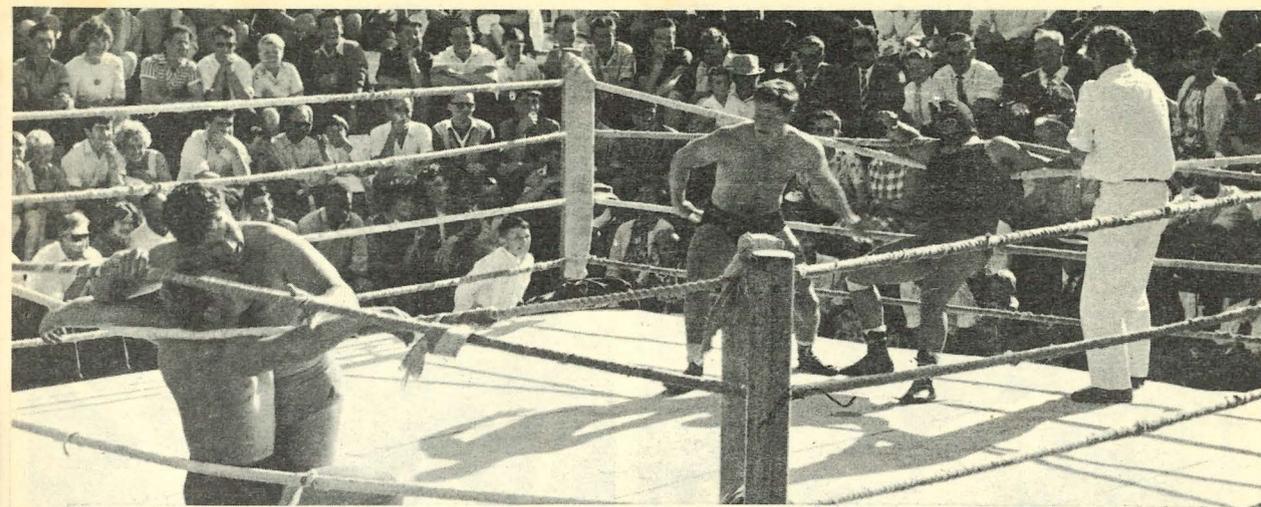

Colin Lohta charms in the crowd with promise of action from his muscle-bound troupe

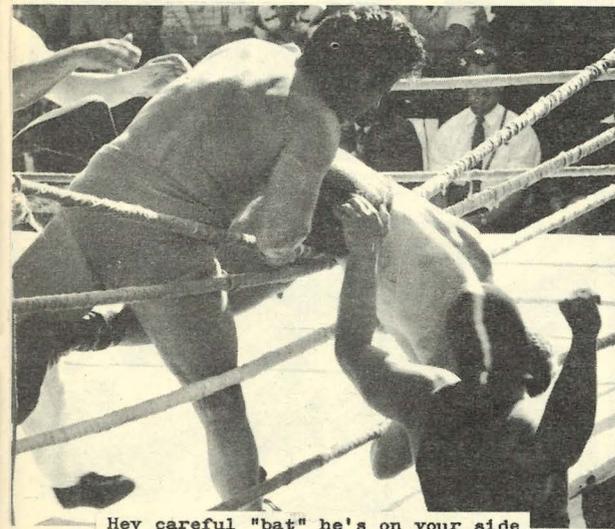

One of the most popular sideshow attractions was the tag wrestling. For 4/- customers got about half an hour of the best faked brawls seen in Wanganui for a while. Anyone that took the show as being serious competition would be blind to the obvious...but those who knew what to expect had many a laugh at the pitiful acting. Although no academy awards were presented this was about the pick of the sideshow attractions.

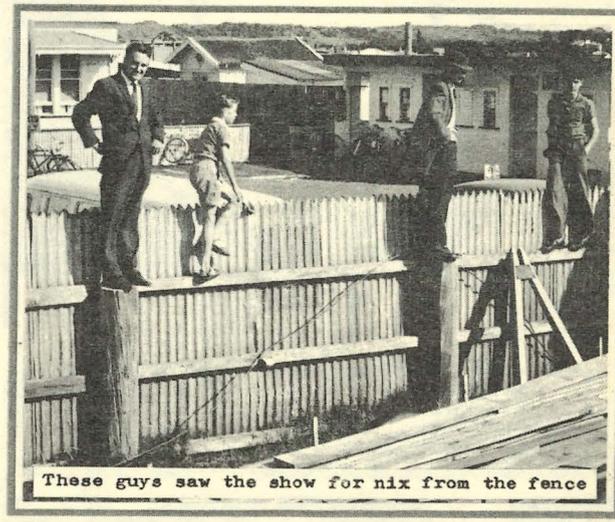

14 Bruno has the "bat" writhing in agony while partner Hobman watches events. (The bat lived).

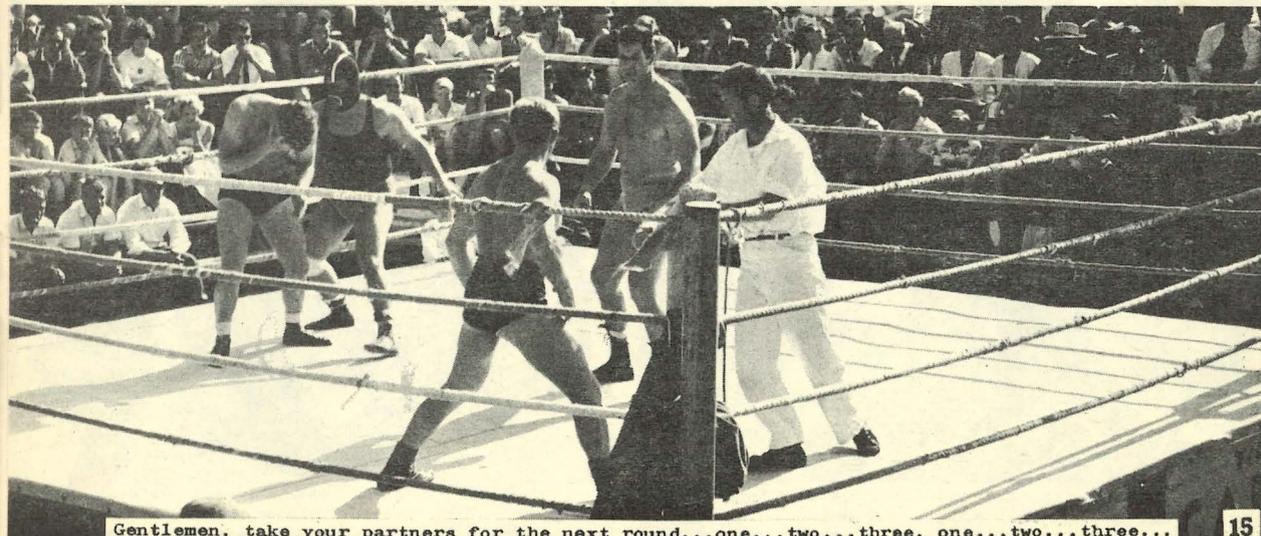

Bruno and Al Hobman have their opponents tied up in the ropes (don't look too hard) and proceed to charge all of the wind out of their captives. Quite a novel twist this on the old routine.

Hey careful "bat" he's on your side

These guys saw the show for nix from the fence

Gentlemen, take your partners for the next round...one...two...three, one...two...three...

Alan Horobin with two of his dozens of lizards. These species are the blue-tongue and the frill-neck. Some of the lizards were about 3ft long.

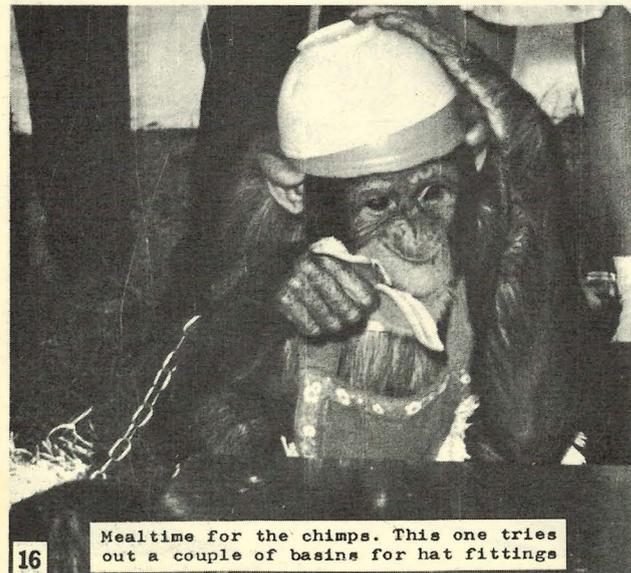

English showman Alan Horobin used animals as his stock-in-trade. He owned two of the side-show attractions...a tent of "Real Orstralian Reptiles" and a chimpanzee circus.

A bicycle built for two chimps

As a motorcyclist this one is a chimpion

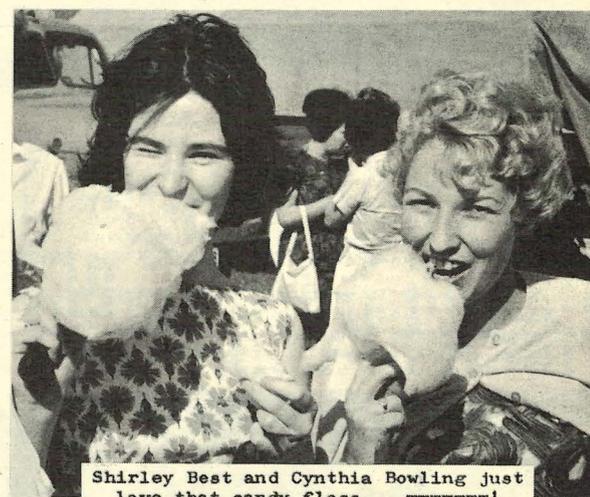

Mealtime for the chimps. This one tries out a couple of basins for hat fittings

The octopus...just the thing after a big meal

No, not Victoria Avenue on Friday night

Shirley Best and Cynthia Bowling just love that candy floss....mmmmmm!

The following evening...sideshow folk leave a pile of litter to be cleaned up before they return for the 1963 A & P show. Our sympathies go out to whoever had to clean up this horrible mess.

In Wanganui recently were six different models of Jaguar cars. Of them, three are the only ones of their type in New Zealand. "Photo News" is the only publication in the country ever to photograph all of these models together.

Left, top to bottom:

1. The first-ever Jaguar... Sam Brewer's 1935 S.S. model (Wanganui).

2. Phil Galpin, Marton, owns this 1961 XK 150S, the only one of its kind in the country.

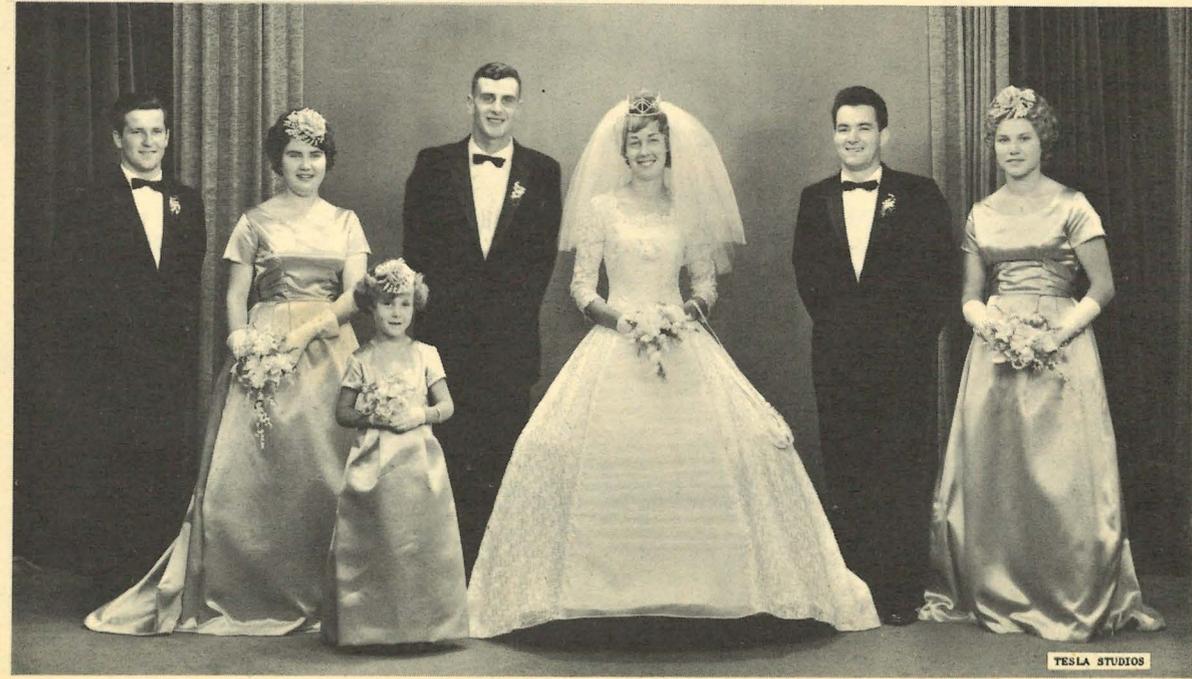

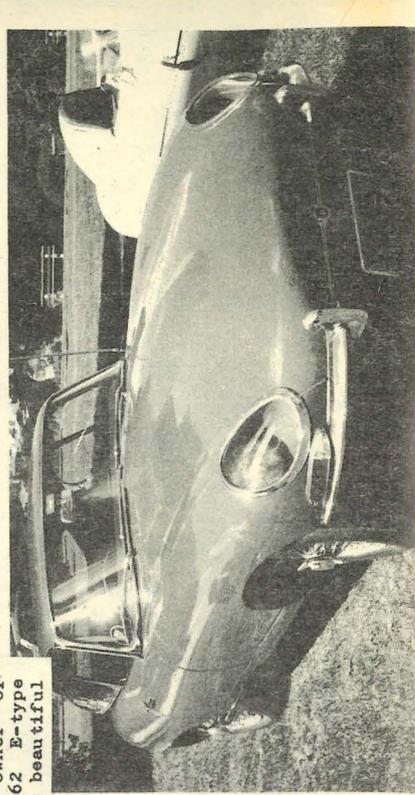

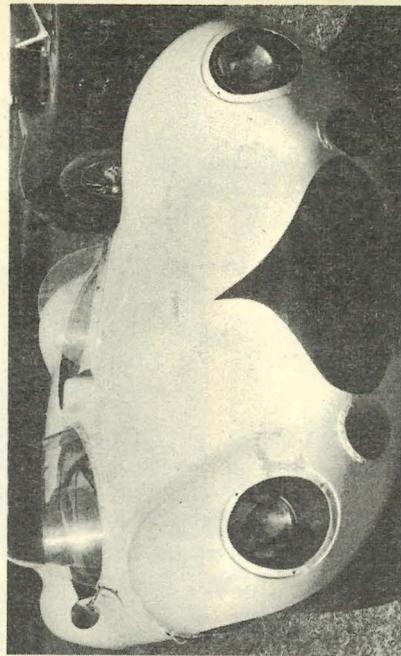

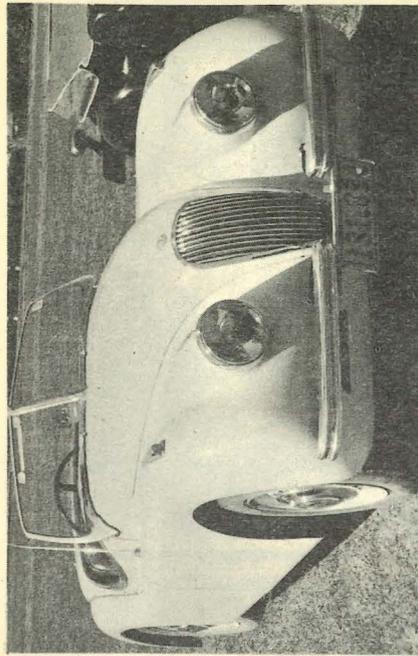

3. A 1953 C-type was owned by David Young, Timaru. This car, in Wanganui recently for specialised servicing, is the only C-type in New Zealand.

1. The 1952 XK 120 owned by Garth Forsyth, of Wanganui.

2. Simon Taylor, of Te Awamutu, owns this D-type Jaguar, also the only one of its kind in the country. It was in Wanganui for adjustments.

3. Ken Russey, Wanganui, is the proud owner of this sleek 1962 E-type Jaguar... a beautiful car.

Future home: Te Awamutu.

Collegiate Dominates Rowing

The Wanganui Collegiate School notched two notable wins over New Plymouth Boys High in rowing events held recently on the Wanganui River.

The visiting eight, holder of the Maadi Cup, was well beaten by Wanganui Collegiate in a race over the championship course. The local crew took over the lead at about half-way and, rowing very smoothly, won by one and a quarter lengths. In the senior fours event, Wanganui Collegiate beat New Plymouth by 15 lengths.

Merewether's Christmas Party

Children of Merewether Motor Company employees had a big thrill in store for them at the Christmas party put on for them at the home of Mr M.G. Bignell, managing-director. In the middle of their yuletide festivities Santa Claus arrived in a helicopter to distribute presents. Ice-cream and soft drinks were temporarily forgotten as Santa's helicopter flew low over the outdoors banquet and landed in a nearby paddock.

Regimental Dinner

The 2nd Field Regiment's annual Sergeants' Mess dinner was held recently in the Grand Hotel. A very enjoyable evening climaxed the weekend of technical training that is held each December prior to the annual camp.

Christmas For Jaycee's Children

The appropriate place for Wanganui Jaycees to hold their Christmas party for members' kiddies was the playground at Kowhai Park. While parents got together for a chat the children were in their element playing on the equipment that their daddies had built for Wanganui.

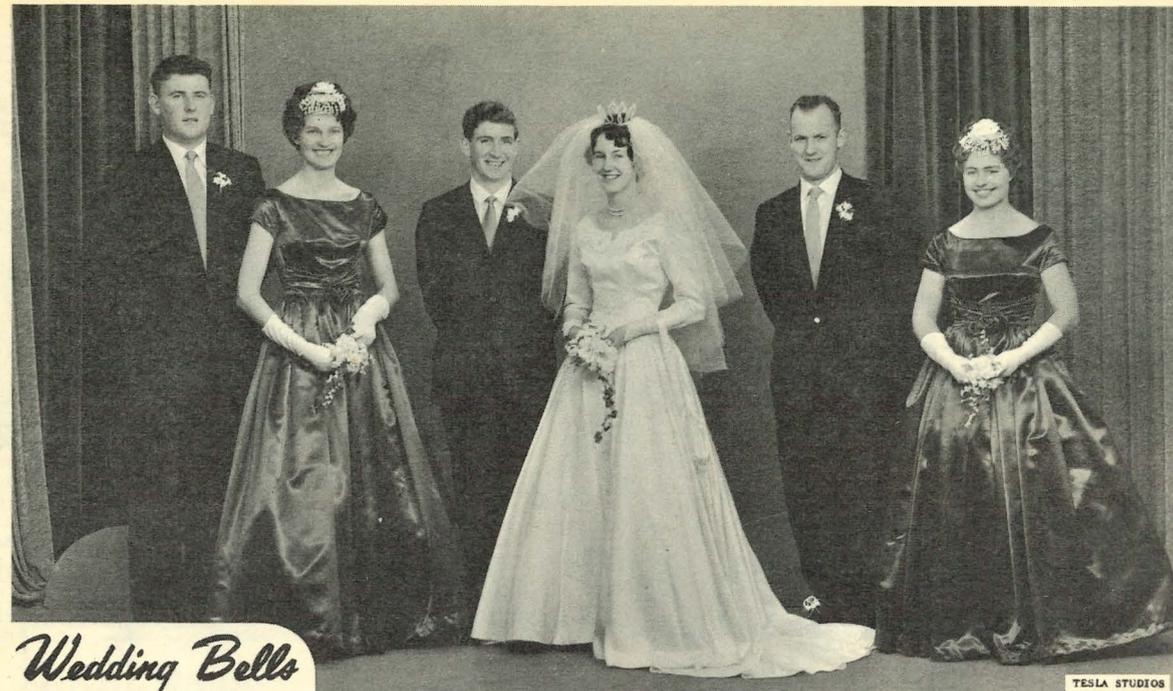

After feeding the kiddies with all the goodies that go with Christmas, parents packed them off to play and gathered for a chat and a cuppa.

AUSTRALIAN-BUILT TOP-DRESSER. In Wanganui recently during a North Island demonstration tour was this Australian YA1 Cropmaster. The only one in the country at present, the aircraft is built by the Yeoman Aircraft Company in Australia and is powered by a 250 h. p. Lycoming engine. This plane is owned by Farmers Aerial Ltd., Invercargill.

T.V. TOWERS BUILT LOCALLY. Mr I. Frowein, 43 Hinemoa Street, made this T.V. antennae tower for a Harrison Street man, Mr D.J. Bartels. Of steel fabrication, the tower is designed to an American technique and has a total weight of 4 cwt. The tower stands on a concrete block in the ground and soars to a height of 82 feet. The Bartels get a very good local reception and also Australian broadcasts at times. The price is comparable with the standard antennae.

WALKING "ON PRINCIPLE". Mr G. Clark Titman, an American now living in Takapuna, his Gisborne-born wife, Kathleen, and six-months old baby Hugo (in the hand cart) walked from Auckland to Wellington recently to deliver a letter to the Mayor of Wellington which stressed the "need of the preparation of a declaration of inter-dependence styled after the American Declaration of Independence". Mr Titman was striving for the Federalist Action for a Revolutionary International Constituent assembly. (We think that all he got was sore feet, two new pairs of shoes...and lotsa publicity).

Hotel News

Below! NEW WING OPENED. The new additions to the Castlecliff Hotel have been opened for a short while now to the public. The new garden bar, pictured here, is very spacious, modernistic, and already extremely popular.

Gymnastic Competitions

The Wanganui Police Boys' and Girls' Club gymnastic competitions were held recently in the clubroom in Ridgway Street. Entries were so great that the competitions were carried on all day and into late evening. The standard shown by the children was generally very good, and the large crowd of parents and friends present appeared to take much enjoyment from watching the events.

Outward Bound for Adventure

To New Zealanders, the name Anakiwa is now a household word. They know that Anakiwa is the site of New Zealand's first Outward Bound School, but unfortunately many do not know what is being done there. But the 72 young men between the ages of 16 and 19 who have taken part in the first two courses (including young Harry Scoltock, of Nelson), know that Anakiwa is synonymous with adventure. And that is what it is. An adventure school, where young men from a cross section of life come together for rigorous 23-day courses which will fit them out and toughen them for many pursuits enjoyed today by New Zealanders. They are, essentially, character-building courses, and every boy must benefit.

During a day we spent at the school we saw the second intake of youths being put through their static training in seamanship, canoeing, bush craft and physical training. Instructors are all experts in their own field and men who have lived adventurously. At the conclusion of their static training, the real adventure begins when the boys put their training into effect with camping expeditions, rapids-shooting in canoes and sailing.

The picture on this page is of the school at Anakiwa, once the homestead of Mr and Mrs John Hazelwood, now living in Nelson, and more latterly, a guest house.

DON'T FORGET.....

We remind our readers that we do not publish a magazine in January.

Every year we get phone calls from irate readers who tick us off for not delivering their January magazine.

Our magazine is published every fourth Saturday which provides 12 magazines per year.

So please.....when you do not get a book in January..remember that you are not being diddled, your editor is just having his holiday.

Watersiders Confer

Newspaper reporters were precluded from attending the biennial conference of the North Island Waterside Workers' Association, held in Wanganui Amdram Hall recently. The conference was opened by Mr G.A. Spooner, MP for Wanganui. Twenty-one official delegates and 11 observer-delegates attended the conference. The North Island association's fraternal delegates from Australia and from the South Island were also present.

Fancy Dress Night

A bonny Waikato bottle baby

You can guarantee it....every year that the Cosmopolitan Club holds their fancy dress party the costumes get more original and everybody has one great time. We could just about put out a separate edition of Photo News on the many different get-ups that were worn this year.

Wally and Lorraine Hawke...Did you forget something Wally????

This could be Bob Hope just back from the Road to Hong Kong

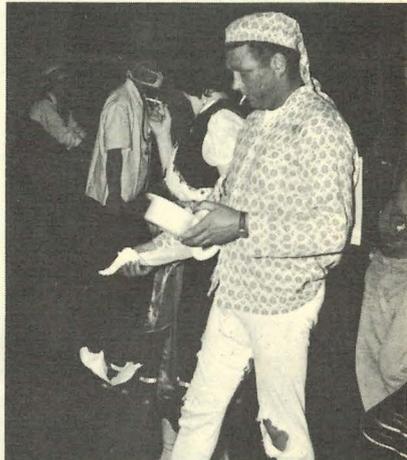

Digger and Mrs Wadsworth were very good as a Guy Fawkes pair

Brian "Cassius" Matson is about to get some groga down his toga

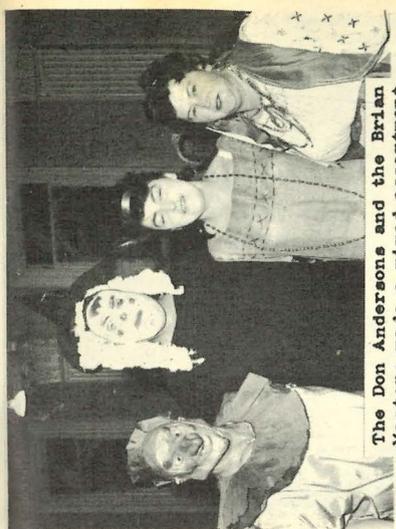

Don't know how these kids got in

Ned Hood won first prize for the most original costume. We can't very well tell you what Ned was...those that were there will agree.

Belle of the beach....wayyyy back in the days of no-bikinis. The gal is Nola Hood.

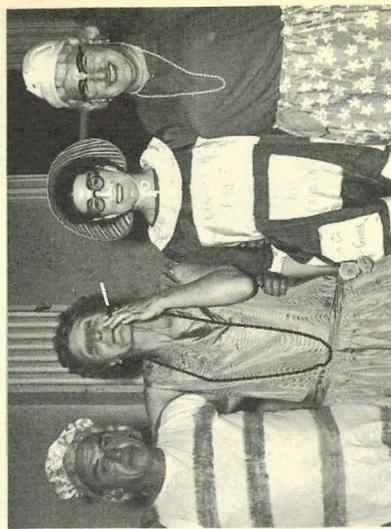

The Don Andersons and the Brian Masters made a mixed assortment

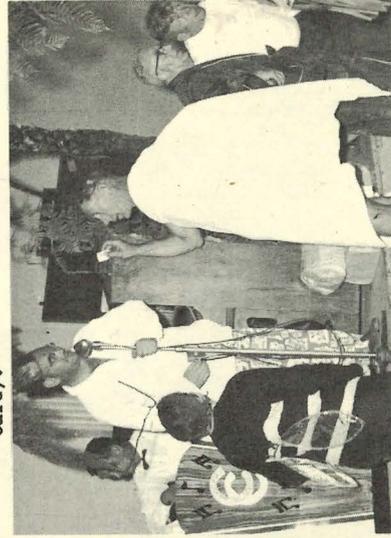

Tom "Spartacus" Waldon and his better half (a bit of a card).

The prize for the best couple went to Jack and Rosalie Whibley (left)

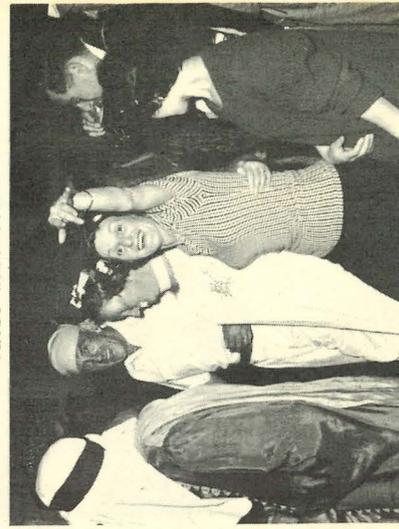

Guess who.....?

M.C. Jimmy Mack and friends

Big chief Ike Edmonds and his squaw

And yoo hoo to you too, Zillah!

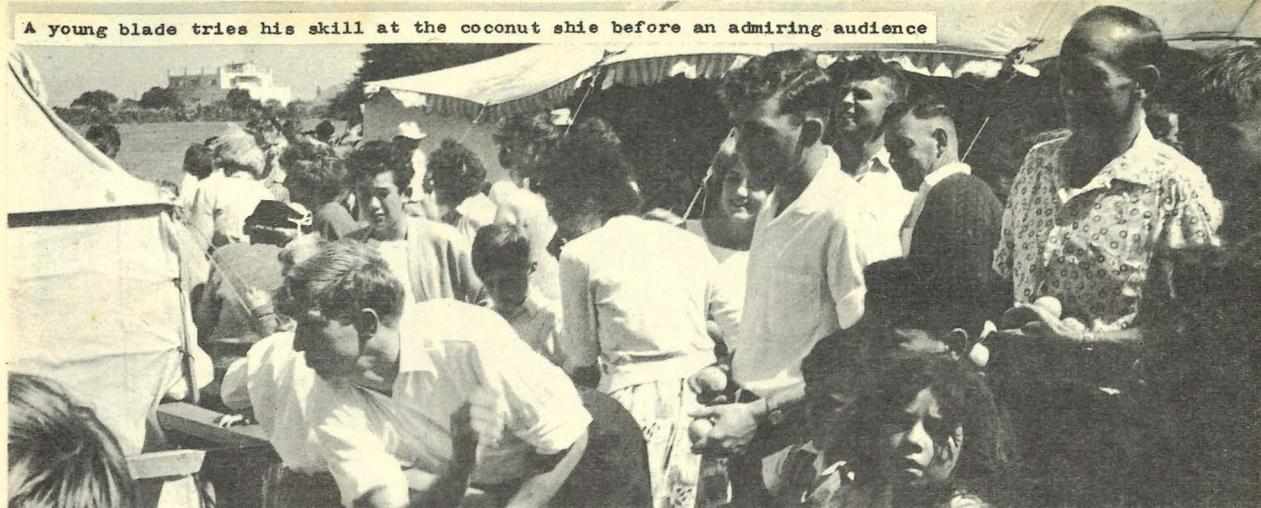

Judging from the expressions this "happy event" was just that!!!!

School Galarama

Castlecliff School committeemen are really on the ball. A live-wire bunch, they recently followed up the opening of their new assembly hall with a "galarama"....a super dooper fete...to raise £500 to buy seating for the new hall. Galarama was very well advertised and consequently a very large crowd attended (even though the day was windy) to support the school.

A huge marquee housed fruit and produce stalls, a sure-fire money spinner at any gala day

The Junior Pipe Band were followed by the kiddies as they marched around the school grounds

Auto Men's Dinner

Well-known motor men in Wanganui pose for a pix. From left Messrs H.S.Dyke, Wanganui branch president, M.G.Bignell, past president, C.A.Linwood, past president, and F.Hackett, past president.

Members of the Wanganui branch of the New Zealand Retail Motor Trade Association recently held their annual dinner at the Rutland Hotel. Patea's MP and chairman of committees in the House of Representatives, Mr R.E.Jack, addressed members on the subject of the Wall of Berlin. These pix were taken at the dinner and at the pre-dinner cocktails.

A bit early for pop corn and hot dogs perhaps.

Waverley Show

Entries in the Waverley Agricultural and Pastoral Association's 1962 show were generally up on last year. The increases were mostly in the horse, pony and dairy cattle sections. Although just a small show, held mid-week, the Waverley show was well attended. A half-holiday was declared in the township to enable business people to attend.

Much interest was taken in woodchopping events. These are competitors in the 9-inch novice events.

Horse events attracted many followers to the show. An international jump was held under floodlights in the evening to wind up the show on a successful and colourful note.

Above. HALL OPENED: The scene at the opening and dedication of the Wanganui Red Cross Centre's new £4,500 building in Cook's Gardens. The Mayor, Mr R.P.Andrews, officially opened the hall after dedication by Canon H.Taepa and speeches by Wanganui's M.P., Mr G.A.Spooner, and the centre's president, Mr W.G.Seabrook.

Below. GALA DAY: The Wanganui Intellectually Handicapped Children benefitted greatly from a gala day held recently in the picturesque grounds of the old Orphanage building, Alma Road.

Services News

Above & Left: The staff of the Wanganui R.S.A. Club recently farewelled the retiring secretary Mr Dave Sweeney. After a short social Mr Sweeney was given a fine briefcase as a farewell gift. Pictured around the table, from left, are: Tom Sanson, Bob Cameron, Alex Bryson, Mrs Buntly Wells, Mr Sweeney, Des Wadey, pres., Jim Humphries, treas., Alex Butters, house manager, Joe Gibbs, Jim Galloway, new sec., Alan Strong, and Jim Avison in front.

Below: Visit By Americans: Five American Army officers visited Wanganui recently as guests of the Wanganui Officers' Club. In N.Z. to attend two big military exercises, the visitors were: Lt. Col. Johnson, Lt.Col. Stanford, Lt.Col. Post, Major Pratt, and Major Johnson...all officers of the 25th United States Division based at Hawaii. While in Wanganui the visitors met the Mayor at a special function at the Grand Hotel. They are pictured at the hotel with members of the Wanganui Officers' Club.

School Fancy Dress

Pictures taken during the grand parade

Every year at this time the infants at the Wanganui East School have their big fancy dress parade and party. As always the variety of costumes indicates the pains that parents go to to make the day an even happier one for their child. Following the usual procedure, the kiddies paraded in their costumes before coming forward in the class groups to sing and perform folk dances for the audience of parents. We sometimes get the "borax" from parents for missing out young Jack or Jenny...if you cannot find your little one in these pictures, parents.... well, we tried to include everybody.

Coca-Cola Golf

This year's Coca-Cola golf tournament at Castlecliff's Golf Club attracted 119 entries. Bottles of the beverage were placed at strategic spots around the course to quench the thirst of the players.

Pictured chatting at one of the sessions of "The Musical Messengers" are Mr and Mrs Bob King, who recently returned to Wanganui on holiday from Ethiopia where they have been serving as missionaries for 11 years, and Mrs King's brother, Mr Noel Smith, director of "Youth for Christ". Mr and Mrs King serve with the Sudan Interior Mission and went out from the Wanganui East Baptist Church.

"Musical Messengers"

In Wanganui recently under the auspices of "Youth for Christ" was American Evangelist, Neil MacAuley. With his wife and an American vocalist, Odessa Sigmon, Mr MacAuley conducted a religious campaign with a difference....Under the name of "The Musical Messengers" the trio interspersed their preaching with songs and instrumental items of a very high calibre indeed. Mr MacAuley is an accomplished cornetist and his wife Patricia is a very fine pianist and organist. She also played novelty items on a set of dozens of cow bells. Pictured above, from left, are Miss Sigmon, Mr MacAuley and Patricia MacAuley. In the photograph below are members of the audience at one of the sessions of the week-long campaign.

Pot Pourri

Above: MALE CHOIR CONCERT: A large audience attended the Wanganui Male Choir's second concert for the 1962 season in the Opera House. The programme was interesting and varied. Assisting artists were Honor McKellar, contralto, Wellington, and Felicity Kerr, the Wanganui cellist. The conductor was J. Dixon Tizard and the accompanist was Muriel Tinker.

Bottom left: AUCKLAND APPEARANCE: At the time of writing this, young Susan Grant, daughter of Mr and Mrs Noel Grant, was preparing for singing appearances in Auckland after being "spotted" by talent scouts from that city. We could call Susan Wanganui's Helen Shapiro.....but she is younger than Helen by far. Those who have heard Susan will agree that her singing of popular hits is indeed extraordinary.

Jag Line-up

This parade of Jaguar cars is a photographic rarity. Taken in Wanganui, the picture shows the earliest and the latest, and four others in between. Three are the only ones of their type in the country. In order from the camera they are: 1962 E type, 1956 D type, 1953 C type, 1961 XK1 50S, 1952 XK1 20, and the veteran of them all, a 1935 S.F.
